

The proposed rule would dessimate competition; competition requires competitors to be alive. If the FCC lifts the dominant classification from the Local Exchange Carriers it will reduce competition to a duopoly consisting of a bell and a cable company. Competition in the American Telecom marketplace will not be incentivized and consumers will be deprived of choice; the FCC will be wholly to blame for "breaking what wasn't broke".